SULLIVAN--JACKSON.

A Proposition to Raise $30,000 Here for the Sluggers.

Seattle has offered $25,000 to the principals of the great Sullivan-Jackson fight, provided the discussion would come in or near that city. Several well known gentlemen of this city met last night and agreed to put up $30,000 as a purse if the fight will be arranged to come off either at or in the vicinity of Victoria. The money has already been pledged, and a portion deposited at the Bank of British Columbia as an earnest. A telegram has also been sent to the arrangers of the mill, and an answer is hourly expected.

VICTORIA-WESTMINSTER MATCH.

The Columbian says of Saturday's football game: "The rain kept falling—as it couldn't very well do anything else—and the mud was kept in a state of extreme agitation, and clung to the jerseys and "extensions" of the players with the utmost affection. It was warm work, and while the teams would all be together bending over the ball discussing what had best be done with it, a cloud of steam could be seen hanging over them. Touch-downs without number were made by both sides, but it was pleasant to note that there was an almost total absence of "fouling" and bad feeling. In fact it was admitted on all sides that a more manly, gentlemanly assemblage of young men had never before played here."

TWO MILE RACE.

A footrace will take place in the Willson Hall, Vancouver, Saturday night, 30th, between Jerry Taylor, champion long distance runner of California, and Wm. Hayward, champion runner of Vancouver, the race to be a two-mile race, Taylor to give Hayward two hundred yards start.

THE FINANCE MINISTER AND THE CONSUL-GENERAL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—The correspondent of the Colonist who signs "Commercial" in to-day's paper, seems to be moderately intelligent, but I am sure he has more sense than his letter indicates. He writes fairly good English, and therefore he must be able to see the difference between Messrs. Welch Rithet & Co. being agents for an American line of steamers, and Messrs. Turner, Beeton & Co. being agents for an alien railway and an alien steamboat company. Mr. Rithet is not a paid servant of ours; Mr. J. H. Turner is a very highly paid servant, and Mr. Beeton is also a paid servant, and so over the two latter we have absolute power and control, but we have no control over Mr. Rithet. Well, this country believes in the encouragement of "home industry," and here are our servants encouraging "foreign industry." We subsidize a Canadian line with our treasure, and Mr. Turner and Mr. Beeton, our servants, do all they can to defeat the aim and intention, for they are paid to send every package they can influence by foreign lines, and they do so, to the disadvantage of this country.

Your correspondent does not even attempt to defend Messrs. Turner, Beeton and Co. for the gross and admitted defiance of our coasting laws, nor does he deny that the deplorable state of affairs now existing was directly caused by them. He uses very strong and abusive language about the Board of Trade, but that I leave for "Commercial" and the Colonist to fight out with the President, Mr. Robt. Ward.

"Commercial" has been somewhat candid in his letter to-day, and if he writes again, as he says he will, let him in justice to himself be a trifle more candid, and then we may respect him.

FAIR PLAY.

Heavy Weather.

Captain Cavin, of the Rainbow, says that the gales of the past two or three days have been the heaviest experienced for years. Yesterday morning the Rainbow left Westminster for this port, but the wind was too strong to progress against, and studying the comfort and safety of his passengers, Captain Cavin took the steamer into Saanich harbor, where she anchored until this morning; the weather moderating she came on to port.

MOVE IN REAL ESTATE

Tacoma Town Lots Slide Into the Harbor—A Very Large Transfer.

A Big Failure—Strauss & Co of San Francisco Go Under —Liabilities $200,000.

[By Postal Telegraph.]

Tacoma, Nov. 27.—At 3:30 this morning a land slide occurred on Pacific avenue, below the Northern Pacific headquarters, which carried away the sidewalk of about half the street and for a distance of more than one hundred feet loosened the earth, which slid down into the Northern Pacific yards and covered six tracks. The earth is piled up on those nearest the avenue to a height of fifty feet. Until the west side of the avenue is put in condition, all travel will be stopped to and from the wharves. The ground is still slipping, and the chances are that a larger part of the street at this point will be carried away. The Northern Pacific put men to work at once to clear the track and do what they could to prevent further damage. It is estimated the slide carried down a million feet of dirt.

FATAL EXPLOSION.

Dayton, Ohio, Nov. 27.—The Hawthorne two-storey brick dwelling was blown to atoms early this morning by an explosion of natural gas. Two children were killed and Hawthorne, his wife and father fatally injured. The explosion was heard all over the city.

P. O. ABOLISHED.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The post office at Dewitts, Snohomith county, Wash., has been discontinued.

SWEET CHARITY.

New York, Nov. 27.—The will of John H. Shoenberger, the Pennsylvania iron master, has just been filed for probate. The estate is valued at $4,000,000, one-quarter of which is left to charities.

CHINESE MURDER.

Fresno, Cala., Nov. 27.—A horrible murder occurred in Chinatown at 6 o'clock this morning, the victim being a young married Chinese woman aged 21, who was literally cut to pieces by a young Chinaman supposed to be her discarded lover. Twenty-seven gashes were made in her body by the knife over a foot long.

A 'FRISCO FAILURE.

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—M. Strouss & Son, importers of clothing and tailors trimmings, made an assignment to-day. Liabilities are reported to be $200,000 but this has not been confirmed. Most of the creditors are in New York where the firm has a branch house. Selling goods at 60 per cent. of their value is said to be the cause of the failure.

ARRESTED AGAIN.

New York, Nov. 27.—Jimmy Hope, the bank burglar, was released from custody this morning. This afternoon he was arrested by Delaware officers.

AN AWFUL FIRE.

Boston, Nov. 27.—Manufacturers are of opinion that the total loss at Lynn is nearly $5,000,000. The number of buildings burned is 296. The city is patrolled by militia and two hundred and fifty men are stationed at the entrance of ruined streets and barring approach to the burned district.

HIGH-BINDER TROUBLES.

A Wiseome Chinese Girl Marries Twice—"Melican Fashion."

An episode in Chinese life, and another proof of how lightly they consider the laws and customs of Caucasians, has just come to light. It appears that some time ago a Chinese girl had professed Christianity and had been married in this city to a Chinaman.

Several months after the marriage had been performed, the woman was enticed or forced away, and went to Portland, where she was again married to another Chinaman, this ceremony also being solemnized by the rites of the Christian church.

The first husband and his friends in Victoria, getting wind of the second marriage, bied them to the land of the free and made complaint to the authorities there, with the result that the woman was given up to the claimants, and she was brought back to Victoria and kept by husband No. 1.

Now the trouble commences. Husband No. 2 comes to Victoria and goes to a local lawyer, stating that his wife was held against her will by another man. The chief of police and the claimant went to the house where the woman was and she was asked to come with them. This, of course, she did willingly, as she no doubt understood it to be another trade in which she was to figure as the bartered article. No. 1 husband learns of the flight, or stealing, of his bride, and the machinery of the law was set in motion and a writ of habeous corpus taken out, all hands in the matter being before Sir Matthew Begbie, J. C., in chambers to-day.

It will be a nice point in law to decide whether the woman is guilty of bigamy or not, as she does not seem to have the remotest idea of the binding effect of the marriage tie, merely looking on it as a sort of bill of sale business.

"THE ROYAL CHARTER."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—The "Royal Charter," about the wreck of which your Duncan's correspondent asks, was lost at Llanalgo, North Wales, Tuesday night, 25th October, 1859. Charles Dickens gives a graphic description of the wreck in the second chapter of "The Uncommercial Traveller." She left Melbourne, 26th Aug., 1859, with 388 passengers and 112 officers and men. On the 24th October she touched at Queenstown and landed 13 passengers. She then stood off for Liverpool and next morning picked up 11 riggers to take on to the Mersey, thus saving the people on board 448. The scenes at the wreck were terrible. Only 39 of the 448 lived to tell the story of the writer. Not a superior officer was saved, nor a woman nor a child. She had from £500,000 to £800,000 in gold bullion on board, of which £300,000 was afterwards recovered. A full account of the wreck can be found in "The Boys' Own Paper" Feb. 21, 1885. W. C.

Victoria, Nov. 26.

Glover-Ellard.

Among the arrivals on the Islander last evening was Mr. F. R. Glover, city editor of the Columbian, and bride. The marriage of Mr. Glover and Miss Ada Ellard, daughter of the late James Ellard, was celebrated at Holy Trinity church yesterday morning, His Lordship the Bishop of New Westminster, assisted by Rev. G. Croucher, officiating. The bridesmaids were Miss Nellie Cambie, of Vancouver, and Miss Ellard, sister of the bride; Mr. R. W. Armstrong, of the legal firm of Armstrong & Eckstein, being best man. The bride was the recipient of a large number of beautiful presents. Mr. Glover is one of the Royal City's most promising and popular young men. The bride is of the fairest of British Columbia's fair daughters. THE TIMES wishes them a long life of happiness and prosperity. Mr. and Mrs. Glover are at the Driard.

ROYAL GOSSIP.

The Queen Looking Well—An Empress' Diamonds—Personals.

New York, Nov. 27.—Edmund Yates' cable letter to the Tribune says the Queen is at present looking very well. She was, however, lame both at Perth and at Windsor, where she arrived on Thursday, and walked with a stick but looked wonderfully well and none the worse for her long journey. Lord Salisbury and the Prince of Wales expressed, after their return from Windsor, wonder at seeing how well and vigorous she was after her journey.

Emperor William's visit to the Sultan has cost the latter potentate nearly a million dollars.

THE EMPEROR IS BLAMED

for allowing the Empress to accept diamonds from the Sultan which are known to have cost upwards of £20,000, and the total value of the half shipload of superb presents which were carried to Berlin is estimated to be nearly £60,000. The Sultan showed the greatest complacency towards his guests, but the Emperor left Constantinople firmly convinced that Abdul Hammid's fear of assassination rendered him practically insane.

The palace which the German Emperor and Empress occupied during their visit to Constantinople is situated within extensive grounds of Yildiz Kiosk, where the Sultan always lives. The palace is simply a huge Swiss chalet, with gables, balconies, and carvings, and stands on a hill and commands in the world. It is guarded on all sides by a chain of sentries. The vast and thickly wooded park which surrounds the Sultan's residence contains, in addition to several palaces, a great number of Kiosks, in which the Imperial household and body guards, which number 500 persons, reside.

The Duke and Duchess of Connaught will visit Japan before returning to England from India.

Mr. Browning's new volume of poems will be ready December 12th, and the poet laureate's collection will be ready at the same time.

A GIGANTIC REQUISITION

Presented to Mayor David Oppenheimer of Vancouver.

Vancouver, the city of big things generally, comes to the front with a monster requisition, probably the largest ever gotten up in the province, asking Mayor Oppenheimer to allow himself to be renominated for mayor. The World man in a double leaded leaderette says the requisition is twelve feet long with a double row of names.

Mayor Oppenheimer has consented to the prayers of the petitioners and elucidates twelve pressing questions for "the City Without a Grievance." Among these are the establishment of industries in Vancouver; management of their own schools; semi-weekly communication all over the coast; removal of Barnaby reef; telegraphic communication from Cape Flattery; to induce the Imperial and Dominion governments to make Vancouver a naval and military station; construction of branch railways and other matters. It is very likely Mayor Oppenheimer will have a walk over.

ENCOURAGING MINING NEWS.

Sale of an Okanogan Mine to San Francisco Capitalists.

Information comes from Okanogan camp of the Similkameen by San Francisco parties of the Wide West gold mining claim, situated about eighteen miles north of the forty-ninth parallel and two miles west of the Okanogan river. The consideration is $50,000, $5000 in thirty days and $45,000 in six months. The development consists of an adit near the apex 20 feet, 100 feet below a tunnel is on the vein 98 feet, pay vein 3 1-2 feet wide. This mine, with a number of others in the same locality, are most admirably situated for developing and milling, and show the largest outcrop of pure quartz of any district the correspondent has visited.

The Cariboo gold mine, situated in Rock Creek district, made a very rich strike last week in the drift from the tunnel level of pure gold. This is an important strike, as it has stimulated the owners of several good claims to effect an arrangement to develop their properties this winter. Recent work in this district has proved most satisfactory.

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer has news to the following effect: "Mining capitalists evidently have an eye on this vicinity, judging from the arrivals on every stage, who generally take in the whole mining belt running into British Columbia, thence out by Colville, Stevens county. This locality is blessed with most delightful weather, for the prospectors in particular, and any others with out-door vocations, giving the mining men every opportunity to complete his different assessments and prepare for the winter. Game is coming down from the high mountains in large bands. Deer are quite plentiful and in prime condition."

WHO IS "NED?"

Why Not Edward Gawlor?—Official Military Etiquette.

It may not be generally known that official military etiquette or regulations surrounds the Governor-General of Canada when appearing in his official capacity with a cordon that is harder to break through than the wall that the "immortal six hundred" found at Balaklava. During the recent visit of Lord Stanley to this province as Governor-General it was deemed prudent to appoint certain local military gentlemen to the position of aide-de-camp, so as to arrange receptions, give introductions, etc. One of these peculiar regulations is that no one of the party, except the Governor-General, is allowed to return a salutation, either by voice or gesture. Imagine one of our hearty, jovial and hale fellow-well-met citizens being temporarily appointed aide-de-camp and a life-long friend comes up to him while with the vice-regal party and says "Well, Ned, old fellow, how are you?" and the aforesaid Ned finding himself side bound by the official regulation, is even debarred from winking, not alone speaking, a reply. The old friend, if he is not posted in this useless reserve, at once says well Ned is putting on frills now he is with the Governor-General and he don't know a common place individual like me.

This is no fancy sketch, but a veritable occurrence not ten miles away from Nanaimo during the recent gubernatorial visit. We are sure that if the friend met Ned "off duty" with twenty Governor-Generals around he would be the same open handed hearty fellow as he was in those happy days when in his "dark blue shirt" he could be seen wending his way too and from the old Douglas pit. This explanation may be the means of placing a certain transaction in its proper light and show to what sometimes unpleasant extremes the observance of so-called official etiquette leads.—Free Press.

In connection with the recent burning of the Montreal Herald office a contemporary remarks that this is the fourth time in sixteen years. The loss this time will reach $15,000.

Proposed Invasion of Egypt—Amnesty Granted to Cretan Revolutionists.

[By Postal Telegraph.]

Cairo, Nov. 27.—Confirmation has been received in this city of the report of the Mahdi perfecting plans in conjunction with the Emirs by which they shall make a combined invasion of Egypt.

FRIGHTFUL WRECK.

Constantinople, Nov. 27.—It is reported by the Turkish journal Soodet that the steamship "India," with five hundred Mohammedan pilgrims on board, has been sunk in the Ægean sea, and that all on board except the captain and two passengers were lost.

PATTI COMING.

London, Nov. 27.—Adelina Patti was a passenger on the steamer Teutonic, which sailed for New York to day.

TENANTS GIVE IN.

Dublin, Nov. 27.—The plan of campaign, inaugurated some time ago by tenants on Alphet estate, has collapsed. Sixty tenants have paid their rent in full in addition to the costs incurred by eviction.

THE SULTAN'S KINDNESS.

Constantinople, Nov. 27.—Admiral Ratil, pasha of the Turkish navy, has been dispatched to Crete with a proclamation of the Sultan granting amnesty to those implicated in the recent revolution on that island.

SNOW.

London, Nov. 27.—A heavy snow storm prevails in the midland counties.

TO CORNER OUR SPRING WATER.

London, Nov. 27.—Hon. L. Greenough Walker, a well known member of the financial circles in Mark Lane, will sail from Liverpool Saturday for New York, as the representative of a syndicate which proposes, if possible, to obtain control of the leading springs and health resorts of the United States. During the past few months an agent of this syndicate has been travelling in the States and has obtained a large number of options.

THE CAPITAL.

Quieting French Half-Breeds—The Chinese Tax.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

Ottawa, Nov. 27.—The government views with more than ordinary alarm the disaffection which is growing among the French half-breeds of the Canadian Northwest and steps will be immediately taken to satisfy them and keep them quiet.

Messrs. Ladner, Dempster and Ewen, representing British Columbia interests will appear before the Dominion cabinet to-day and ask the removal of the $50 poll tax on imported Chinamen on the ground that serious injury is threatened because of a scarcity of labor.

GRANITE QUARRY.

A Rich Find Being Worked by a Victorian.

A granite quarry situated on Saanich inlet near Sayward's mill, is being opened up by the owner, Mr. J. E. Phillips, of View street. Mr. Phillips has about five acres of land which is rich in granite, and has a force of a dozen men at work at present. A wharf nearly fifty feet long has been built out into deep water for shipping purposes, and the only way to get the stone into the city is by barges or tugs. The granite is of a superior quality, some pieces being thirty feet in length. The cost of transporting it to the city will come to $1.00 per ton, which is a large item of expense. Mr. Phillips is alone in the enterprise, and wants all the profits or loss himself. He is reticent about the matter but sanguine of a good thing, which it undoubtedly is. He will leave in the morning for the scene of operations, going by way of the E. & N. railway, a short distance beyond Goldstream and then footing it in a distance of four miles.

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of the Movements of Well Known Persons.

Robert Muir, of Sooke, is in the city.

C. D. Rand made a flying trip to the city yesterday.

Gideon Robertson, of Vancouver, arrived down last night.

Jerome B. Wood, of the Driard, is out again after a severe illness.

Henry Fry, M. P. P., returned last night from a lengthy trip to England.

Capt. John Irving went over to the Sound this morning on important business.

D. E. Brown, freight and passenger agent of the C. P. R., was a passenger by the Islander last night.

Dr. T. Cummings, who has been visiting Nanaimo and other points in the province, has returned to the city and is stopping at the Revere House, Pandora street.

On Tuesday, December 10th, next, Rev. P. McF. McLeod will lecture in the Presbyterian church, Kamloops, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church.

FIRST ORE CRUSHED

At the New Revelstoke Smelter—The Test Satisfactory.

The first car of ore received by the smelter came in from Illecillewaet and was switched to the sampling works on Wednesday, says the Star. It was unloaded on Thursday and yesterday was put through the crushing process. The time consumed was two hours and twenty minutes for fifteen tons of ore, at the rate of about sixty tons in ten hours. Dr. Campbell is well satisfied with the initial trial, but expects the machinery will work much more expeditiously after it has been in operation a few days. To Joe Wilson, more than to any other person, is due the credit of making this first shipment of ore to the smelting works at Revelstoke. But for him it is doubtful if any ore would have been received this fall. He has put his own time, experience, capital and energy into the scale, and has succeeded. Give him the honor. This ore is from the Fish Creek mine, known as the Dunvegan, of Bain, Boyd & Co., and about 125 tons more will follow this to complete the contract by January 1st. As soon as its value is ascertained the shippers will receive their cash for it.

Commendable.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the Cal. Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all, and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

THE THIN EDGE.

A Chinaman Employed by the Dominion Government as Interpreter.

It is a well known fact that the Dominion government has for many months past done away with the office of Chinese interpreter at this port, but it is not so well known perhaps, that a full blooded Chinaman, dressed in the distinctive costume of his nation, is employed day after day by the Dominion government as an interpreter in this city. Such, however, is the case, and this to in the face of the fact that there are three white men here who are well versed in the Chinese language, and well able to do the work.

It is not asserted that the Chinaman, Mong Kow, is a steady employee of the government, but he is engaged on the work and paid by them, although receiving no official salary. This will probably come in time, as the orders for his employment were sent here from the department at Ottawa, and those orders decidedly said that for all work requiring a Chinese interpreter, Mong Kow should be employed, and it is common talk among the Chinese that Mong Kow's actual appointment to the office is only a question of a short time. It was not, it is said, deemed advisable to put him at once in the vacant office, as too much talk would have been caused by this action. It was quieter to employ him temporarily, and then when no attention was called, he could be nicely ensconced in a fat paying office. If the terms of the Chinese Exclusion Act are understood, it seems hardly the thing to have a Chinaman acting as an interpreter, as by so doing the chances of the detection of fraud are somewhat lessened, to put it mildly.

Another slight change in the way of conducting the business of Chinese certificates has also been brought about since Mr. Gardner was deposed. When that gentleman was in office the declarations were filled out by him and no extra charge was made on the Chinese, but now the broker is employed and the Chinaman applying for registration has to bring his declaration filled out. He also has to pay for this. This has been brought about lately, and is nothing but right, as there is no reason why a Chinaman should put the government to the expense of making out declarations when every merchant in the city who does business with the customs has to pay for the declarations made.

The strong point taken by those most interested in the matter though, is that a Chinaman should be employed by the government when white men are standing idle ready to do the work.

Fortune Smiles.

On Nov. 23rd, a daughter was born to the wife of David Branscombe of Steveston, Lulu island, and as she is the first child born there she has been presented with a town lot by the owners.

Railway Legislation Plentiful.

Ottawa news states that railway legislation promises to be plentiful next session. Another company seeks incorporation as the Columbia River Railway, near the Columbia river, commencing seventeen miles east of Golden, B. C., thence to the head waters of the middle fork of Spillamacher river, with the usual powers.

A Dead Chief.

Johnny, the chief of a Fort Rupert tribe, who died on the Fraser river a few days ago, is greatly mourned. The body was brought down on the Princess Louise yesterday, and to-day was embalmed. It will go north on the first steamer for interment in the Indian cemetery at Alert Bay. No expense has been spared in the preparations. The deceased was about fifty years of age.

The Nobility and Trade.

The death of Earl of Leven has directed attention to his having been one of an increasing number of British titled persons who are not deterred by any rigid interpretation of the maxim noblesse oblige from entering business life. He was a member of a well known banking firm in London, and for years attended regularly at the office. It was from this banking concern, persons with long memories for all kind of oddities are fond of remembering, that the cheque for twenty thousands to Lord Macaulay from his publishers was issued, being the first instalment of the author's profits on his famous "History."

He Was Reticent.

A recent arrival from Alaska being approached in regard to the fishing outlook in that territory, stated that to venture out in Alaska is much like investing in a lottery. "It is a lottery at most," said he, "and a person takes his chances on making a great deal or losing all." While eight or ten new canneries have gone up during the past season, he did not believe that they made much. Although well fortified with salmon statistics, he did not care to make them public, and it is just possible that his pessimistic views for the benefit of the public are a guise for some gigantic enterprise that will spring up while others are sleeping.—Oregonian.

Electric Lighting.

We mentioned the other day that Pandora street was in darkness, wishing to call attention to what was probably an oversight. The street, however, still shrouded in deepest gloom, a gloom indeed worse than before, as the lights at the upper end of the street shed no lustre on neither picket fence nor porch, which latter inconvenience in the matter of finding the latch key orifice threatens to destroy the orthodoxy of the heads of families. This, not only, is unfair to the benighted citizen, but it is annoying to the burglar who will have to put off operations until the sky clears and Luna dispenses her mellow light. In making these remarks, however, we do not expect that they will help matters. Since we first brought up the subject of non-illumination the situation on the street in question has grown darker, and so we may expect as the logical sequence of this squib that the lamps will be removed altogether. Some fine night a citizen will be sand-bagged as early as 9 p.m., and then there will be no uproar.

BROTHER IS COMING.

How sweet the robin is singing
Far up in the old willow tree,
How joyful his soft notes are ringing,
Fond memories they're bringing to me

Of days that were passed in my childhood
With brothers and sisters at play,
In the cool shady nooks of the wildwood,
And brother is coming to-day.

From far distant lands he is coming.
Yes, he will be with us ere long,
How joyful the brooklet is humming
To the roses it singeth its song.

How sweet is the love of a brother,
So warm, so tender and true;
'Twill live fresh and green when all other
Will vanish like summer's bright dew.

And now in thy prime I behold thee
In the strength of thy manhood and pride,
As the bright argus of life do enfold thee
In the spray of their mystical tide.

Sweet brooklet keep merrily dancing,
And sing pretty robin, so clear,
Your melody is so entrancing
For brother, dear brother is here.

Thirty Years Ago.

Over thirty years ago there was placed upon the market a remedy designed to relieve pain and capable of either external or internal use. From the first it has had wonderful success, and hundreds testify that Hagyard's Yellow Oil cures rheumatism, sore throats, sprains, croup, cuts, bruises and all pains and aches.

A CHIEF JUSTICE'S REBUKE.

It may be very improper to give vent to feelings in court, nevertheless in the case of Regina vs. Klemberg little else could have been expected. The case was a serious one in the eyes of the law. It is a function of the law to treat everything which comes within its scope with stolid gravity; but in this instance, gravely as the law regarded underclothing and "Sylvia," its exemplars, from bench to counsel, failed to reciprocate, and the public, taking their cue from this exalted source, vented good natured approval of the verdict of the jury with moderate applause. This, we repeat, was no more than could have been expected. Add to the sympathy which naturally goes out to an alleged culprit who has a pretty foot, the delectable witticisms of a Chief Justice, reinforced with the facetious impatience of a Q. C., together with a sense of suppressed fun from a quondam Speaker of the House of Parliament, and if the public fails to catch the infection, it is a queer public indeed. But justifiable as the applause was, having its origin in sources so respectable, and from springs of feeling so eminently human, the court room, strictly speaking, was not the place to vent it, and we beg that the public will refrain from acting so rashly again. It is impossible to drop this subject, however, without alluding to the character of Sir Matthew's rebuke to the sympathetic populace. "Do you think," said his Lordship, "that the jury are at your beck and call? Do you think that because you howl justice will be done?" His Lordship entirely mistook the character of the "mob" he addressed. He forgot that the "mob," such a one as was assembled in his court room would be the last to attempt to coerce a jury. He forgot that the "mob" has as high a conception of the free agency of a jury as the most learned legal light. And finally, he overlooked the important fact that the greater proportion of this "mob" had listened to the evidence in this case and were as capable of forming as just an estimate of its worth as the jury themselves, and that consequently, the applause so far from being intended to coerce the jury was simply the reflex of private convictions and the sense of satisfaction which all men feel whose views have been reciprocated. Nobody doubts for a moment Sir Matthew's disposition to mete out justice according to his light. This is taken for granted. The character of His Lordship's rebuke, however, seems to imply that he mistrusts the people and that the people mistrust him. This is an unfortunate situation, His Lordship would do well to study the character of his social environment a little more closely.

FAME VS. NOTORIETY.

"Among the vast changes which have passed over the memory of men living, one comparatively insignificant has hitherto escaped observation," and that is the "disestablishment of fame." In classical days the thirst for fame was not merely confessed, but boastfully claimed as commendable in itself, and befitting the character of the purest patriot and the loftiest poet. To remain "to fortune and to fame unknown" was an unbearable grievance in the eyes of the man who gave "Endymion" to the world. The Greeks and Romans believed that the happiest of all men is he who lives in conscious certainty of posthumous fame." Thus writes Francis Power Cobbe of what was once the feeling in the breasts of men, a feeling which now, alas, has given place to a "bastard brother sentiment, the love of notoriety." Notoriety is a word which correctly defined means a knowledge of things known to their disadvantage. Fame means directly the reverse of this, unless, of course, some depreciatory adjective is used in connection with it. Now, it would appear, according to our author, that men nowadays, like gluttons, care for the quantity of their celebrity, not like gourmets for its quality," and the author inquires what are "the essential springs of the sentiment, and what are its claims to contempt or sympathy." Man must, will assert his individuality. He will not allow his personality "to be swamped or merged in that of any other, or that of any corporate body, or sink from man into a number." As an instance of the assertion of men, the prison authorities from motives of convenience in giving convicts numbers instead of names, unwittingly created a source of disturbance and revolt, a source which works most persistently among higher criminals who feels that he must assert his individuality, must be noticed for something as a man and not be counted over as a number. As a further illustration of the innate sense of self assertion of this "fact of psychology" as the author expresses it, the inmates of the reformatory for criminal girls "although treated with the greatest possible kindness and equality required to be individually noticed, praised, blamed, looked at and addressed by name, and any neglect to follow this rule led to naughtiness culminating sometimes in apparently motiveless fury."

Alluding to old world prejudice in favor of privacy, the writer points out that "notoriety even of the most favorable kind brings with it a sense of being rubbed the wrong way, while on the other hand those brought up with the familiar sense of publicity accept any amount of notoriety without roughening a hair."

The difference extends to nations. On no subject do English and American tastes differ more widely than on the pains and pleasures of publicity. The average Englishman from the highest to the lowest, entertains the profound conviction that privacy is an invaluable privilege. If he is the owner of a fine estate he encloses it with a high wall or lofty paling, often excluding lovely and extended views; and if he be a shop keeper he prefers to spend a summer evening in a stuffy back parlor behind impenetrable blinds, rather than to sit as a Frenchman or a German does every evening at a table before a cafe in the liveliest street. If, however, we must deprecate the substitution of notoriety for fame, the author concedes that of the two correlated sentiments, "indifference to privacy, and excessive interest in people, which together combine to make notoriety more prominent in America than in England, a great deal of kindness, and genuine human sympathy, must assuredly be at the bottom of both sentiments. The manifestations of these feelings may be foolish, or absurd or vulgar, but at the root they must be better and more wholesome than exclusiveness and indifference."

LONGEVITY OF LITERARY WOMEN.

The average longevity of literary women would indicate that activity of the brain has the effect of lengthening their lives rather than shortening them. Mrs. Somerville and Caroline Herschel reached the ages of 97 and 98 respectively. Mrs. Barbauld and Miss Edgeworth died at 82. Miss Harriet Lee attained 95 and Mrs. Marcet 89. Jane Porter died at 74, Hannah More at 88, Miss Mitford at 69 and Mrs. Radcliffe at 59. The average longevity of the ten ladies named was nearly 83 years. To offer a non-professional opinion there is not the slightest reason to apprehend that intellectual activity tends to longevity. The sine qua non of good literary work as in the physical vocations is physical rigor, and this if it means anything barring accidents means longevity. Persons of low vitality never reach eminence in anything. They may live and live by taking good care of themselves, but they only live because what little energy they have is expended in taking good care of themselves.

It may be that the literary occupation is less fraught with danger to disease than those which incur the dangers incident to flood and field, but inasmuch as persons who succeed in intellectual pursuits are invariably physically robust, we may presume barring accidents, that they would reach old age, had their lives been devoted to manual pursuits.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The reception by capitalists and others of the projected Firth of Clyde canal to connect the Atlantic ocean with the North sea is very gratifying to the promoters of the scheme, and the work will be begun at once. A Manchester firm has contracted to complete the canal at a cost of £8,000,000.

New York City will enjoy an income of $150,000 a year from the Broadway cable road. This item suggests what possibilities for future revenue are thrown away by our western cities, that are granting valuable street franchises with such prodigal hands. Every franchise ought to reserve a royalty to the city of a certain per cent. of gross earnings after sufficient time has elapsed to place the roads on a good paying basis. There is no reason why franchises worth millions of dollars should be absolutely given away. Public sentiment should make itself felt in this matter, so that officials having the granting power will feel more deeply their responsibility and duty to the cities they represent.

The Imperial Federation League has held a great meeting in the Mansion House, the Lord Mayor presiding. Lord Rosebery made the speech of the day, and for the first time suggested something like a practical programme for a movement heretofore more passionate than practical. He proposes that the Federation Conference of 1887 should be renewed periodically. Lord Salisbury's government summoned that Conference; one of its few good acts, thinks Lord Rosebery. All the most eminent colonials available assembled. Let them assemble regularly and talk things over, and Imperial Federation will result. Nay, that is Imperial Federation, says its most enthusiastic advocate.

Atavism has a world of crime to answer for. Literally, the word means want of order, but scientifically it answers the why and wherefore of crime by heredity from wicked old ancestors. Just why inexorable fate should skip a generation or two as regards the appearance of a black sheep in the family, the Italian savants of the late Anthropological Congress failed to explain. True it is that the criminal is a distinct type of humanity, and Dr. Lombroso, the famous Turin specialist, says it is very near that of the savage. There is a mental and physical differentiation between the blackleg and the person of good morals. So, says science, which has made post mortem examinations of the bodies of criminals, and found the same characteristics in all. Science may be able to tell a criminal when he is dead, but what is sadly needed is some rule or sign by which the members of this family can be distinguished before they have taken our pocketbooks, "balanced" our cash accounts and hypothecated our receipts. Here is truly great labor for Dr. Lombroso and other anthropological scientists.

Senator McInnes, in a speech at a meeting in Westminster prior to the election, said that Vancouver had got "upwards of two thousand votes on the provincial voters' list by registering every Canadian Pacific employee from Donald to the coast." He further said that "Victoria has now no less than four representatives for about one thousand votes, while here there is but one for more than that number." As we would not care to accuse the Senator of wilful misrepresentation, we must conclude that he is very badly informed as to the voting population of all the cities of the province. Victoria has for years had over two thousand names on the list, and at present has over three thousand, with another thousand in sight.

READ THIS

Concerning the famous

Mason & Risch Pianos

Which the firm are constantly shipping to all parts of the world. That prominent musical authority, Walter E. Wall, Esq. (Fellow of the Royal College of Organists, London, England, and now organist of St. John's cathedral, Denver, Colorado), writes:

After a thorough testing of considerable severity of touch, I can safely say that I am thoroughly satisfied with the fine instrument you have selected for me. In tone and touch I never want a better piano, and shall, as soon as possible, dispose of the Weber Grand I have, to possess one of yours for my own private use.

To-day the instrument had almost a semi-public examination by a skilled piano-tuner who is deeply interested in a firm here who are agents for Steinway, Weber, Knabe, Hardman, Fischer, Schmer, and a lot of other makers. It received at his hands "a pounding," not a playing, and he said as he finished, "Well, it is impossible to find the slightest fault with it. I think we'll try and get the agency."

Mr. Hall is not the only musician who has changed a piano of one of the noted makers of the United States for one of this firm's celebrated instruments, as the firm have now on hand at their warerooms a very large stock of second-hand pianos, among which are Steinway's; Chickering's, Weber's, Haselton's, and other first-class makers, which they have taken in exchange for theirs, which fact may be accepted as a fair indication of the merits of a piano which can thus displace those of high-class American manufacture.

HARPER'S BAZAR

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S BAZAR is a journal for the home, Giving the latest information with regard to the Fashions, the numerous illustrations, fashion-plates, and pattern-sheet supplements are in themselves alike to the home dress-maker and the professional modiste. No expense is spared in making its artistic attractiveness of the highest order. Its clever short stories, parlor plays, and thoughtful essays satisfy all tastes, and its last page is famous as a budget of wit and humor. In its weekly issue everything is included which is of interest to women. During 1890 Olive Thorne Miller, Christine Terhune Herrick, and Mary Lowe Dickinson will respectively furnish a series of papers on "The Daughter at Home," "Three Meals a Day," and "The Woman of the Period." The serial novels will be written by Walter Besant and F. W. Robinson. 52 ts

Jonathan and His Continent.

By MAX O'RELL (Author of "John Bull and His Island," "John Bull, Jr.," Etc.) and JACK ALLYN.

Translated by Mme. Paul Blouet. Copyrighted by Cassell & Co., New York, and published by special arrangement through the American Press Association.

Paul Blouet (Max O'Rell) is a remarkably clever Frenchman, who has devoted his talents mostly to satirizing the Anglo-Saxon race. The book from which the following extracts are made is his latest production, and material for it was gathered during his recent visit to America.

X—BILLIONAIRES.

A List of Fortunes—A Democracy Ruled by Many Kings.

I am afraid it will make my readers' lips water, but here is a list of some American fortunes, as I have heard them stated. I have no doubt some of them are inaccurately reported:

Name.	Capital.	Revenue at 5 per cent.
J. Gould.....	$375,000,000	$18,750,000
J. W. Mackey.....	200,000,000	12,500,000
C. Vanderbilt.....	125,000,000	6,250,000
G. P. Jones.....	100,000,000	5,000,000
J. J. Astor.....	80,000,000	4,000,000
A. T. Stewart.....	40,000,000	2,000,000
J. G. Bennett.....	30,000,000	1,500,000

These are the princes of the Land of the Dollar. The largest English fortunes fall short of these figures.

In France, with their fortunes translated into francs, Messrs. J. Gould and J. W. Mackey would be billionaires; and I beg to suggest to the editors of French dictionaries the addition of the word:

"Billionaire—A person possessing at least a thousand millions. This phenomenon is found in America."

Needless to say that, with his millions on millions, Mr. Jay Gould is a power.

As for contending with him, as well try to break the bank at Monte Carlo with a ten cent piece.

I cannot guarantee that Mr. Gould is a happy man. Concerning immense fortunes, a witty American friend, rich in moderation, and a great philosopher, said to me one day:

"No man can own more than a million dollars. When his bank account outgrows that, he does not own it, it owns him, and he becomes its slave."

The two kings of American plutocracy are Messrs. Vanderbilt and Astor. The name of king applies to them less on account of the size of their fortunes than the generous use they make of them. They have founded hospitals, museums and libraries, and are known for the generosity with which they respond to appeals for help in philanthropical causes.

The Vanderbilt mansion in Fifth avenue, New York, is a princely habitation. The luxury on all sides is extreme. In the bath room, I am told, the walls are all mirrors painted thickly with trails of morning glories, so that the bather seems to be in a bower of flowers. In plate and pictures, many millions of dollars must have been spent. The pictures hang in two spacious, well lighted rooms. They number one hundred and seventy-four works, from the brushes of great modern masters. In the entrance hall hangs a portrait of Vanderbilt I, founder of the dynasty.

The Americans, having no king in our sense of the word, make the most of those they have. To read the pedigrees published in full every time a death occurs in one of these rich families, is highly entertaining. A Mrs. Astor died while I was in America, and, after the enumeration of her charms and virtues, came the list of John Jacobs from whom her husband had sprung. The Astors were all John Jacobs apparently, and were mentioned as John Jacob I, John Jacob II and John Jacob III. The line does not go back very far, John Jacob I having gone to America as a poor emigrant early in this century, I believe, and laid the foundation of the present grandeur of his house by trading in furs.

It will not do to inquire too closely into the way in which some of America's millionaires have amassed wealth.

As for the colossal fortunes of railway kings, it is well known how thousands of small ones go to make them, how the rich man's palace is too often built with the stones of hundreds of ruined homes.

There is no other name than "king" used in speaking of the few great financiers, who hold the bulk of the railway stock in America. But they are not the only ones. There are oil kings, copper kings, silver kings, and I know not what other majesties in America, and when you see the power possessed by these, and the numberless trusts, combinations and pools, you wonder how the Americans, who found one king one too many, should submit so patiently to being governed by scores.

To Annul the Cigarette.

The new legislature of the State of Washington is making strides towards good work. Congressman Shinn, of King county, starts in to reform the hollow-cheeked and weak-eyed youth of the land by arbitrarily removing from their reach the insidious cigarette and all forms of tobacco poison. By the provision of his bill it is proposed to make it a misdemeanor to sell cigarettes, cigars, and tobacco to youths under the age of 16. This is a kind of prohibition that has been adopted in one or two other States and many cities, and it is said to work more satisfactorily than laws prohibiting the sale of liquor.

Tacoma Bachelor's Club.

A Bachelor's Club has been formed in Tacoma, but it is unlike the bachelor clubs of the east. It is the usual custom of these clubs to impose a heavy fine, expel, or submit the member to some severe penalty for daring to break the rules by marrying. When a member is initiated he is compelled to take an oath that he will never marry without being willing to accept the penalties. Now this club does not intend to have any such rules, but on the contrary, any member who shall grossly neglect, without just cause, when favorable opportunities are abundant, to become a benedict, must submit willingly to what penalties his more enterprising brothers may see fit from time to time to impose upon him.

Egyptian Fortitude.

Egyptians are said to bear surgical operations with extraordinary fortitude and success. Clot Bey, the founder of modern medicine in Egypt, says: "It requires as much surgery to kill one Egyptian as seven Europeans. In the native hospitals the man whose thigh has been amputated at 2 o'clock is sitting up and lively at 6 o'clock." Shock is almost entirely unknown, and dread of an impending operation quite an exception. The explanation given for this abnormal physical excellence is the resignation inculcated by the religion of the people; the very small proportion of meat in and the total absence of alcohol from their diet, and, in general, their regular, abstemious, out-of-door life. — Boston Journal.

OREGON STRAWBERRIES.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

DEAR SIR,—We noticed in THE TIMES a short time ago, that you had ripe strawberries in Victoria sometime during the month of October. We can beat that in Bay City, as we picked two quarts of ripe strawberries off from our vines the 17th of this month, and, it nothing happens, will have fresh strawberries for Thanksgiving, as the vines are full of green berries and blossoms. An Outside Opinion.

Sunday is not observed in British Columbia with the care characteristic of other parts of the Dominion. In the cities liquor is sold as if there was no Sunday-closing clause in the license act, and the daily papers are published on Sunday mornings. A prominent announcement in a Vancouver paper reads thus: "Published every morning, Monday excepted." So that the public yearning for news which, it is claimed, necessitates publication on Sunday, is left unsatisfied on the following day, Monday. The barbers have until very recently opened their shops for customers on Sundays. But they now have an association, one of the rules of which is that no barber shall work on the sacred day The clergy are making an earnest effort to secure the observance of "a Toronto Sunday" throughout the province; but the American idea is as yet so strong that the movement is not a success.—Mail.

OFFICIAL THUNDER.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—The ludicrous side of educational officialism may be seen from the following correspondence: To J. N. Muir, Esq., Lulu Island. Victoria, Nov. 23, 1889. Sir, In the event of your appointment as teacher of a public school, I request you to inform me whether or not it is your intention to obey the rules and regulations prescribed for the government of public schools, or in other words to carry out in their integrity the authorized regulations for the conduct of the same. Permit me to point out to you the fact that you have reported to this office that the rules and regulations prescribed were not obeyed by you during last month and the early part of the present month, while in charge of English public school. It must be apparent to you that neglect to obey the authorized regulations cannot be tolerated. Yours truly, S. D. POPE, Supt. of Education.

REPLY.

LULU ISLAND, Nov., 25, 1889.

To S. D. Pope, Esq., Victoria.

SIR:—In reply to yours of the 23rd inst., I may state that I shall take your request into consideration, when you comply with the following modest request. First, to furnish me with an official copy of the rules and regulations, which you ought to have done last August. Second, to send me a written or printed copy of your definition and official explanation of said rules Third, to state what meaning you attach to questions 24 and 25 of the monthly report. Fourth, to send me a copy of the rules and regulations which do not appear in the official book (such as that about not admitting pupils under six years of age into graded schools) Fifth, to state whether you yourself, in the event of your appointment as superintendent of education intend to obey the rules and regulations prescribing your duties. Permit me to point out to you that the educational authorities were the cause of my reporting that the rules and regulations were not observed, and the people will not stand such tyranny much longer. MEDICAL Coughs, Colds, Croup.

Allen's Lung Balsam was introduced to the public after its merits for the positive cure of such diseases had been fully tested. It excites expectoration and causes the Lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hours' time, if not of too long standing. It contains no opium in any form and is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child. There is no real necessity for so many deaths by consumption when Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it if only taken in time. For Consumption, and all diseases that lead to it, such as Coughs, neglected Colds, Bronchitis, Asthma and all diseases of the Lungs, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM is the Great Modern Remedy. For Croup and Whooping Cough it is almost a specific. It is an old standard remedy, and sold universally at 50 cents and $1.00 per bottle. The 25-cent bottles are put out to answer the constant call for a Good and Low-Priced COUGH CURE. If you have not tried the Balsam, call for a 25-cent bottle to test it.

A BY-LAW

To enable the Corporation of the City of Victoria to raise the sum of $650,000 for sewerage purposes.

WHEREAS IT IS EXPEDIENT TO RAISE the sum of $650,000 for the purpose of constructing a general system of sewerage works for the benefit of the city of Victoria;

And whereas, for the purpose aforesaid it will be necessary to raise by way of loan upon the credit of said Corporation the sum of $650,000;

And whereas it will require the sum of $31,202.57 to be raised annually by special rate for the payment of said debt and interest as hereinafter mentioned;

And whereas the amount of the whole rateable property of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria according to the last revised assessment roll, being for the year 1889, was $8,440,582, irrespective of any future increase of the rateable property of the said Corporation of the city of Victoria and of any income in the nature of tolls, interest or dividends from the work or from any stock, shares or interest in the work upon which the money so to be raised or any part thereof is intended to be invested, and also irrespective of any income from the temporary investment of the sinking fund or any part thereof;

And whereas for the paying of interest and creating an equal yearly sinking fund for paying the principal sum of $650,000 and interest as hereinafter mentioned it will require an equal annual rate of seventy-one two hundredths of one per cent. in the dollar;

THEREFORE be it enacted by the Mayor and Council of the Corporation of the city of Victoria as follows:—

(1.) It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation of the city of Victoria for the purposes aforesaid to borrow or raise by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned the said sum of $650,000, and cause the same to be paid to the treasurer of the said Corporation and in respect thereof for the said Mayor to issue debentures of the said Corporation to the amount of $650,000 in sums of not less than $1000 each payable at the end of 50 years from the date on which this By-Law takes effect and to bear interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum payable yearly on the 31st day of December in each and every year during the currency of the said debentures.

(2.) The said debentures as to principal and interest shall be payable at the office of the Bank of British North America in London, England; New York city, New York State, United States of America, or Victoria, Province of British Columbia, Canada.

(3.) It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said Corporation of the city of Victoria and he is hereby authorized and instructed to sign and issue the said debentures hereby authorized to be issued and to cause the same and the interest coupons attached thereto to be signed by the Treasurer of the said Corporation and the Clerk of the said Corporation is hereby authorized and instructed to attach the seal of the said Corporation to the said debentures.

(4.) For the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures and the interest at the rate aforesaid to become due thereon an equal special rate of seventy-one two hundredths of one per cent. in the dollar shall in addition to all other rates be raised levied and collected in each year upon all the rateable property in the said Corporation during the continuance of said debentures or any of them.

(5.) This By-Law shall before the final passing thereof receive the assent of the electors of the said Corporation in the manner provided by the Municipal Act, 1889.

(6.) This By-Law shall take effect on the 21st day of December, A. D. 1889.

(7.) This By-Law may be cited as the "Sewerage Loan By-Law, 1889."

(8.) The said debentures shall be so expressed that in the event of the power being conferred upon the said Corporation by the Legislative Assembly of the Province of British Columbia and subject to such restrictions as by said Legislative Assembly shall be prescribed the said Corporation may hereafter in its discretion make the principal of said debt repayable by annual instalments during the currency of the period within which said debt is to be discharged, such instalments to be of such amounts that the aggregate amount payable for principal and interest in any year shall be equal as nearly as may be to what is payable for principal and interest during each of the other years of such period.

(9.) And also in the like event and subject as aforesaid that the sinking fund then on hand (to be raised, levied and collected as in the foregoing clauses, and as now provided by law) may be applied in satisfaction of the principal sum of said debt and that forthwith thereafter any such payment of principal and interest shall accrue upon so much only of the principal sum as shall remain due after such payment.

(10.) And also in the like event and subject as aforesaid if on account of a sum being on hand from a previous year or a sum being on hand which has been derived from the work or from the investment of the sinking fund or on account of the increased value of property liable to assessment it is found to be unnecessary to levy the full rate imposed by the By-Law in order to raise the instalment of the sinking fund and interest required to be raised for any year or to raise such instalments for any future years of the then unexpired time which the debentures have to run the Council may pass a by-law reducing the rate for such year or for any such future years so that no more money may be collected than the amount required.

Passed the Municipal Council the 16th day of November, A. D. 1889.

TAKE NOTICE that the above is a true copy of the proposed By-Law upon which the vote of the Municipality will be taken at

Barnes' building, Bastion square, for Yates street Ward;
The City Hall for Johnson street Ward;
The Hook and Ladder House for James Bay Ward.

On the 3rd day of December, A. D. 1889, and and the polls will be kept open between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

—Kootenay Star: A strife occurred yesterday among the boys who carted the ore from the car, to see which one could take out the heaviest wheelbarrow load. Billy Edgar overtopped them all, wheeling out 804 pounds. "Bob" came next at 802. A good record for the first car.

—Received this day at the Albion House new ulsters and jackets, knitted wool goods, plain and fancy dress materials, winter gloves, hosiery, etc. A full line of blankets, quilts, flannels and staples of every description always on hand.—Brown & White.

—As international commerce is now threatened by the action of one of our business houses, prices on commodities are very apt to go up; but bear in mind the fact that Hastie & Lockhart will, until the end of the year, continue to sell furniture at their present low rates. We are bound to sell. Come and see us; 62 Government street.

To City Subscribers.

Mr. B. Haigh has charge of the city circulation of THE DAILY TIMES, and is authorized to collect all subscriptions. Irregularities in the delivery should be reported to him, or to the office, on the day they occur in order that they may be corrected.

Our circulation is now so large that the paper has to be printed an hour earlier than formerly to permit of delivery at the houses of subscribers at a reasonable hour. Advertisers, correspondents, etc., will please bear this fact in mind, when sending in their favors. Changes for regular advertisements should be received in the morning, or, as a rule, not later than 12 o'clock.

Mr. Villiers' Letter.

Mr. Frederick Villiers' letter to the TIMES, explaining the accident to the Amphion and correcting the statements of the morning paper, is being largely copied in the eastern press as an evidence of the famous correspondent's invariable accuracy and reliability. By parity of reasoning the latter will help to show the badness and utter unreliability of the Colonist.

Sowenbrau.

A carload of this celebrated beer just arrived at the Bank Exchange. n22 1w

The Ferry.

The Islander left Vancouver for Victoria at 2:50 p.m. to-day.

Bridge Contract

The contract for building the new Bastion street bridge at Nanaimo has been received by Mr. C. Williams of this city. The price he will receive for the work is about $5,600.

Removal.

Dr. J. Hall, Homœopathist, will remove his office to the new brick block, corner Yates and Douglas streets, in a few days where he may be consulted during the usual hours.

Fixing Them Up.

The stone crossings on the several streets torn up by the tramway rails, and which were left in a very shaky way, have now been relaid solid and firm, much to the comfort of foot passengers.

Victoria West.

The second "social" evening will be held at the Victoria West church schools on Thursday evening. A good programme is provided. An omnibus will start from the Post Office at 8 p. m.

Court of Revision.

The court of revision and appeal for the assessment of government taxed property will sit on the 10th and 11th of December at the legislative hall, James Bay, Mr. S. P. Mills presiding to receive complaints of taxpayers.

Royal Hospital Donations.

The steward of the Royal Hospital desires to acknowledge a quantity of flowers and fruit from Lieutenant-Governor Nelson, a bag of apples from Mr. E. R. Evans, a quantity of reading matter from Mrs. Henry Saunders.

Fell Flat.

The recent high winds have been too much for the fill board corner Commercial alley and Yates street, and last night it came down with a crash. As it is back from the sidewalk quite a distance, no one was hurt by the falling lumber.

C. P. R. Earnings.

For the nine months to the end of September, 1889, the gross earnings of the C. P. R. were $10,650,000; and the net earnings $3,972,000, while in the same period of 1888 there were gross earnings of $9,371,000, and net earnings of $3,293,000.

Smugglers in Charge.

Customs Inspectors Buchanan and Reilly, of Whatcom, arrived at Port Townsend yesterday with J. T. McComber and A. Towers, the brace of British Columbia smugglers taken at Ferndale last Friday, with seventy pounds of opium in their grips sacks.

Coal News.

Coal at Vancouver has been raised to $9 per ton while in Victoria it remains at the same old price. The Central Coal Yard and the Rock Bay Coal Yard have been merged into one and hereafter will be carried on under the name of the Central Coal Yard. Orders to be left at 90½ Government street.

An Old Favorite.

The old timers will be pleased to learn that among the personnel of the Katie Putnam troupe is a favorite of years past. We refer to Miss Lizzie Morgan, a sister of the accomplished Fannie Morgan Phelps, who delighted Victoria audiences a score of years ago. Time has dealt kindly with Miss Morgan since then, and she returns more accomplished than ever.

From Rock Creek.

Mr. Morris Moss arrived from the interior last night. He left a short time ago to visit the Laura mine on Rock Creek, which is about ready to make a clean up. Mr. Moss got as far as Okanagan Lake, where he met the miners coming in, the hard frost having stopped operations on the creek for the season. So he turned around and returned to the city.

What About the Mud?

The "happy land" at last! When the Governor-General of Canada visited Vancouver, on the Pacific coast, recently, the bunting displayed bore the motto, "Happy people, without a grievance." How one longs to fly on the wings of a dove to Vancouver, away from home rulers, muzzled dogs, London fogs, and other scourges of an effete civilization.—Times and Echo, London, Eng.

The Play To-Night.

The Katie Putnam company which will delight at the Victoria to-night in that sparkling piece, "Erma the Elf," is one composed of artists, Miss Putnam being the leading one. As she is a great favorite among the Victoria theatre going public as well as a fine actress, there is no doubt but what a large audience will be gathered to-night to welcome her again as she appears before the footlights.

Deluge House Notes.

The boys hitched up the other day in 10½ seconds, about as good time as it is possible to make.

The walls and ceilings of the Deluge engine house are being kalsomined and the woodwork re-painted.

The side door has been changed to swing outwards so that it will not foul with the large doors which fly open at an alarm of fire. This is improvement and a very good one and was much needed.

Heaps of Potatoes.

Mr. A. M. Nelson has chartered the str. Dunsmuir to carry 1000 sacks of potatoes from Lulu Island to Vancouver says the Columbian from whence they will be re-shipped to California, Oregon and Washington. From the looks of things it seems as if British Columbia will soon be rid of "murphies," and the prediction is already ventured that before spring we will be importing for home use. The apple crop is also leaving this district very rapidly, one shipment to-day reaching no less than 175 boxes

An Accomplished Vocalist.

We learn from eastern exchanges that Mrs. R. E. Gosnell, who recently came from Chatham, Ont., to join her husband, the city editor of the News-Advertiser, Vancouver, is a vocalist of more than local repute in Western Ontario, and is possessed of exceptional gifts in this respect. She is said to be an accomplished soprano singer and as the coast has few musicians of this order her arrival may be regarded as an acquisition to British Columbia and her services will doubtless be in demand.

Marine.

Bark Theobald is loading anthracite coal at Port Moody for 'Frisco.

The tug Lorne towed the bark J. V. Peters to sea this morning, bound for Frisco.

The Elder left for Alaska late last evening. Several passengers from Victoria went with her.

A company at Vancouver known as the Union Steamship Co. have sent to London for a fine steel steamer for the coasting trade.

The bark Selkirk, Capt. Crowe, has been towed to Hastings to load lumber. The Selkirk hails from Maitland, N. S., and was last from Yokohama.

Assize Court Notes.

To anyone who visited the assize court yesterday, it must have been apparent that the exercise of a little common sense was badly needed.

Here was a large number of jurors selected from a class of people who have no time to waste, kept hanging around the court till late in the evening when there was not the least possibility of their services being required till to-day.

There were several witnesses in the same position. Among the latter were a number of lady witnesses, who were kept sitting all day in the uncomfortable court room, outside the bar among the jostling crowd who assembled there. The Brown must have witnesses and jurors, but the crown, or the department which summons them on behalf of the crown, must treat them properly. A little gallantry would not have interfered with the ends of justice.

ASSIZES.

Before Sir Mathew Baillie Begbie, (C. J.)

TUESDAY, Nov. 26th.

The continuation of the case, Regina vs. Miss Klemberg, is as follows:

Haliburton Johnson testified to hearing the conversation about the music called "Sylvia," when Miss Klemberg expressed a wish to have a copy of it. Witness also said that when Miss Dickson asked for the music Miss Klemberg would not give it up; also heard high words between Dr. Dickson and Miss Klemberg. I had conversation with Mr. Fell last Saturday; I might have said this case would never have been brought but for the fact that Miss Klemberg had brought suit for money.

Harold Lewis said he was in the employ of Dr. Dickson; knew Miss Klemberg, and remembered a conversation about the piece of music, corroborating the previous witness' statement.

Wm. R. McIntosh, an expert on the quality of dry goods, took the stand and classed the exhibits, stockings.

Francis Bramah testified that he knew the Dickson family, and remembered the conversation concerning the piece of music called "Sylvia."

This finished the case for the prosecution.

Mr. Pooley opened the case by claiming that the music and the stockings as well as the veils were Miss Klemberg's. As for the drawers, his client had stated when shown them that she did not know they came in her box. Witnesses will also be called to prove that there was no necessity of the accused resorting to petty theft.

Arthur Keast, called, produced the original summons taken out in the case of Klemberg vs. Dickson, in which was set forth the amount due her, with a contra account of monies to be paid to Mrs. Dickson.

Madame Hukla Kosche called, said she was a ladies' hair dresser; knew Miss Klemberg, had known her since the first of the year; when Miss Klemberg's trunks came down from Cowichan no stockings were in them, and all the things were mixed up; she afterwards went with me to buy some stockings; several pairs larger than her usual size were purchased as she had to get them that way to fit, her foot being so very small. (Applause.) Her wardrobe is a very good one and very nicely kept.

Mrs. Zoe Trutch said she knew Miss Klemberg and spoke very highly of her; knew the nature of the charge which had been brought against her; for two months after Miss Klemberg had come down from Cowichan she had been teaching witnesses child; she had always been kind to the child, which was very fond of her; had examined Miss Klemberg's wardrobe and found it a very good one; witness had every confidence in Miss Klemberg's character.

Ex-Mayor Fell called, said he knew the witness Haliburton Johnson, and recollected a conversation concerning this case, but the prosecution objected, and Mr. Fell took his seat.

A. E. Luxton gave evidence that instructions to take action against Dr. Dickson by Miss Klemberg were given on the 5th of June.

John Cains, called, said he knew Miss Klemberg who was with his family as lady help; the music, produced, was hers as far as he knew; it bore her name, and he recognized the writing, although he did not know when it was done.

This ended the case for the defence, and Mr. Pooley stated to the jury that he had to address them on a heartrending case; his client had been brought out to this country by those she considered her friends, to earn her living here; no sooner, however, had she reached here than tales of her dishonesty were circulated by her employers who became suspicious of her honesty, yet nothing was brought forward to show that these charges or suspicions were true. It was evident that the finding of the reported stolen things in her box was very suspicious to say the least, and indicated that Mr. and Mrs. Dickson were the housebreakers. When accused of the theft, Miss Klemberg, like a high spirited girl, would not remain under the roof of the prosecutors, but walked twenty-one miles to the station, as she would not stay one night under their roof. The whole charges were without doubt made up of whole cloth. In spite of the so-called dignity of these presumably English gentlefolk, they were no respectors of the privacy of Miss Klemberg's box, and this too in the face of the fact that Dr. Dickson was an ex-officer of Her Majesty's army. (Loud applause from the audience. The chief justice remarked if any further demonstrations occurred the court would be cleared.) Mr. Pooley continued, pointing out that others beside Miss Klemberg had access to the rooms, the Chinese servant among others. As for the music claimed by Miss Dickson, he would point out that all the prosecutor's witnesses were very well informed on this point, but on any other their memories were very bad; this indicated that the matter had been talked over several times since the conversation had taken place; he also showed that the names signed on much of the music put in by the prosecution had the signatures on it signed in a very shaky manner, it being easily seen by a glass that it had been signed over pencil. In a clear and very concise way Mr. Pooley pointed out the several minor points of the case, calling attention to the fact that if a verdict was returned against his client it would ruin all her future chances in life, yet he felt sure that in the face of the evidence before them the jury would return a verdict of not guilty, without leaving the box, and more, that they would add that not the slightest stain remained on her character.

At the conclusion of his address the enthusiasm of the audience was too much for them and broke forth again, and an order to clear the court was given.

After this was done Mr. Irving explained to the jury that he was not there to disprove the attacks on Dr. Dickson and family, or to aid Miss Klemberg; he only wanted to give cold facts, and he proceeded to review the evidence in a clear manner, pointing out its strongest places as presuming the guilt of the prisoner.

His Lordship, in summing up said, the question before them now was to decide whether the prisoner did or did not steal the articles she was charged with doing; he pointed out that while very few people could be found who would say that it was right to open the boxes of the prisoner, even if suspicion pointed to her, but that had nothing to do with her guilt or innocence; it would have been better to have procured a search warrant and have the business done above board, still this had nothing to do with the case. He then went on to explain where one article only was stolen, the evidence would be conclusive one way or the other but when several articles had been lost together, more coloring was given to the guilt. He also drew attention to the fact of the prisoner's possession of the piece of music, which had not been explained away. He thought no sentiment should be allowed to weigh with them, but the facts as they were should be noted.

At 6:10 p. m. the jury retired to consider their verdict, returning at 6:23.

When asked the verdict, "Not Guilty" was the reply of the foreman. Those assembled in the court broke forth in one loud cheer of applause which the officers strove vainly to quell for the moment.

As soon as His Lordship could make himself heard, he thundered: "I thought I ordered this court cleared? you miserable fellows back there applaud because a verdict to your wish has been rendered. I suppose you would have howled had it been otherwise. Let me tell you the jury is in no way influenced by either the applause or howls of a pack of miserable wretches like you!"

Turning to the jury he said: "Gentlemen, I dare say you have done your duty, the prisoner is discharged."

Mr. Pooley and the many friends of the unfortunate lady crowded around her to offer congratulations, and the court adjourned.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 27TH.

REGINA VS. PEARCE.

This was a charge of embezzlement preferred against prisoner by Mr. Sig. Schoen. Mr. Chas. Wilson appeared for the defense; Mr. F. A. Irving conducted the prosecution. Prisoner who had been on bail for some time pleaded not guilty. A jury composed of the following gentlemen was empanelled, and the case proceeded: T. L. Beckwith, foreman; T. Wilson, J. Beek, Robt. Greig, T. Atkins, H. Howorth, W. Turpel, W. D. Kinnaird, Sam. Sea, H. Caldwell, Geo. Winter, Henry Rudge. The evidence was a resume of that already given in the police court.

The case still in progress.

FARM BONDED.

Discovery of a Slate Quarry and Coal Croppings.

The fine large farm of G. Wilson Brown, situated on the Saanich road, has been bonded by a local syndicate. The exact terms are not stated, but it is given out that $260 per acre is the figure.

Coincident with the bonding comes the news that a slate quarry, of excellent quality so far as seen, has been discovered on the property. Outcroppings of coal have also been found, and a small quantity brought to town for assay. The outcroppings are supposed to be the continuation of the vein struck on the Pridmore farm on the Burnside road some time ago, but whether the vein is worth working is yet a future problem.

NAVAL NOTES.

The Icarus Arrives in San Francisco —Work Stopped.

H. M. S. Acorn and Champion left yesterday morning for a ten days' cruise on Puget Sound and towards the mainland.

The Albion Iron Works employees have discontinued work on the Amphion for the present, but more plates have yet to be taken off. It is heard in naval circles that the Union Iron Works of San Francisco will repair the vessel.

H. M. S. Icarus arrived at San Francisco last Sunday morning, six days out from Esquimalt. For the first three days out she experienced very heavy weather with strong gales from the southeast. After that heavy southwesterly swells were encountered. She will remain in San Francisco several days to take on coal and then proceed on her journey.

UNPUBLISHED HISTORY.

Hon. Edgar Dewdney is Willing to Bury the Hatchet.

An Ottawa correspondent has the following to say of Victoria's custom collector: The recommendations for the superannuation of Hon. W. Hamley and the appointment of Mr. A. R. Milne as Collector of Customs of Victoria have gone to the Treasury Board, but it may be some days before action is taken on them, a number of recommendations from other departments being ahead of them. Speaking to day Hon. Edgar Dewdney said that while Mr. Hamley might not be up to the modern methods of the department yet he was a most efficient Collector, always attentive to the duties of the office, and would be greatly missed by Victoria merchants, although he had no doubt Mr. Milne would make a good Collector. It may be news to many of your readers to learn that Mr. Hamley and Mr. Dewdney have not spoken for a number of years. Mr. Hamley, for some reason or other which has never transpired, took umbrage at Mr. Dewdney and withdrew into his shell. I suppose that during that time Mr. Dewdney has often cogitated over the cause but has never located it. If, however, Mr. Hamley could only hear the friendly way in which the Minister of the Interior spoke of him to-day the estrangement would exist no longer.

A WOMAN'S FALL.

A Poor Unfortunate Drops Fully Fifteen Feet.

Three deck hands of the steamer North Pacific accosted a TIMES reporter about 10:20 last night, asking for a telephone. On being interrogated as to its use, they replied a woman had fallen through a hole in a building. On going to the spot it was found to be Mr. Heston's new brick on Broad street, and by the light of a lantern held by two chums of the three other men, a woman could be seen lying on the basement floor. On closer inspection it was found that the unfortunate was a well known character around town after nightfall, once a respectable girl.

The police were at once communicated with, and Chief Engineer Deasy was also met, who despatched one of his men for Dr. Milne, who responded at once. By this time quite a crowd had gathered. Dr. Milne ordered them to one side, made an examination of the woman's limbs but found no bones broken. The injuries were internal in the region of the pelvis which caused her much suffering. A sand sifter was improvised for a stretcher, and screaming with pain the woman was placed on it and conveyed to the police station. Chief Engineer Deasy called on the Refuge Home, explained the circumstances and the matron kindly consented at that late hour, 11:30, to receive the injured woman, who was accordingly removed thither. How the woman escaped breaking her neck through the fall of fifteen feet to a very hard floor can only be guessed at, and the reason of her entering the lonely building must be surmised.

She will be removed to the Royal Hospital. An examination to-day revealed that she was badly injured internally.

Exporting Bricks.

One hundred thousand bricks from M. Hamber's brick yard are being shipped to Port Townsend by the Sound steamers. The bricks are for the new electric light building to be erected at the port of entry. A duty of twenty per cent is levied on them and when landed at their destination will have cost the owners about $20 per thousand.

Not Sour.

THE TIMES is not as a rule soft spoken when it deals with abuses, and has no hesitation in speaking straight, but it does not claim acerbity as one of its virtues, so that when the esteemed contemporary of Nanaimo uses the word "limes" to distinguish this journal, it does so well knowing that sourness is no component part of our disposition.

Thanksgiving Turkey.

The American people will hold their national thanksgiving day to-morrow. In this city Americans and their friends will have an opportunity of partaking of the great national bird—the thanksgiving turkey—at the Delmonico, where Mons. Escalet will spread a thanksgiving dinner between six and eight o'clock in the evening.
